SPEAKERS OF THE DAY

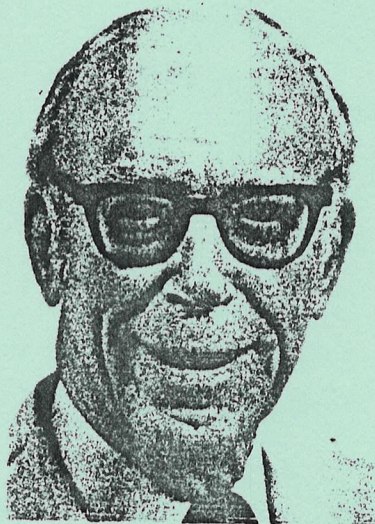

Secretary of State Ken Hechler spoke at the Monday afternoon meal. Mr. Hechler gave a lively speech, even as he reminded the Boys' Staters that he is the oldest member of the West Virginia Board of Public Works at age 74.

Mr. Hechler made note of Justice Neely's "Baseball Bat" speech, commending Justice Neely on focusing on the drug problem plaguing our nation. However, Hechler made clear that he didn't advocate vigilantes taking the law into their own hands.

Mr. Hechler did encourage Boys' Staters to take more individual responsibility to help solve problems in their communities. He also exhorted the citizens of Boys' State to think seriously about staying here in West Virginia. "Stay here, help us out. Meet the challenge!" Hechler said.

Boys' State is always honored to have this popular statesman, author, professor, and civil rights advocate back again. Thanks Ken!

SECRETARY OF STATE

CHARLIE BROWN (D) of Charleston. Born June 6, 1950, in Mansfield, Ohio, son of Dr. Charles G. and Emily Campbell Brown, one child, Tara, Episcopalian; Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Denison University and graduate of Yale Law School, former high school teacher and Eagle Scout, second youngest State Attorney General in U.S.; served as staff attorney for Federal Trade Commission; served as Deputy Attorney General, 1978-82; served as first director of the Attorney General's Antitrust Division, practiced law in Charleston from 1982-84; elected Attorney General in 1984 and took office January 14, 1985.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Also speaking at the afternoon meal was West Virginia's youngest member of the Board of Public Works, Attorney General Charlie Brown. Mr. Brown praised the staff of Boys' State but reserved his best compliments for the citizens of Boys' State. Mr. Brown noted that Boys' Staters were chosen to represent their communities not because of one award or quality. Rather, citizens are chosen because of a sustained record of achievement.

"Everyone here has something special, something on the ball," he said.

Mr. Brown also took time to address the drug crisis, stating that for things to get better, the demand for drugs in America has to decrease. Saying that Boys' Staters can be part of the solution to the drug problem, Brown added, "We've got to convince people that they're ruining their lives."

Mr. Brown echoed the sentiments of Mr. Hechler when he urged the citizens to come back to West Virginia, whether they attended college in state or out. Popular with youth across the state, Mr. Brown's visits to Boys' State are always well-received.

CONGRESSMAN

Congressman Alan Mollohan spoke to the citizens after the Monday evening meal. The theme of Congressman Mollohan's talk was "conflict and confrontation." He spoke of the current ill will in the U.S. Congress as evidenced by the Bork and Tower nominations, and more recently the ethics investigation of former Speaker of the House Jim Wright.

Despite these public displays of conflict in the federal government, Mollohan indicated that a high level of cooperation also exists in the Congress. Otherwise, he said, the system would "fall apart."

Calling the U.S. Constitution "the best framework the world has ever seen to resolve conflicts," Mollohan urged the citizens of Boys' State to take advantage of the good fortune they have as part of their birthright as Americans. Above all he stressed cooperation as a means of resolving many conflicts, stating that "the system rewards cooperation."

After his talk, Congressman Mollohan fielded a variety of questions from the floor, many of which concerned U.S. foreign policy in relation to China, the U.S.S.R., and Central America. A devoted supporter of the American Legion and Mountaineer Boys' State, Congressman Mollohan's visits are always appreciated. This time he shared the limelight with his young son, Alan Jr., who received a Boys' State welcome, too.

ALAN B. MOLLOHAN (D) of Fairmont, Marion County, born in Fairmont, May 14, 1943, son of Robert H. and Helen (Holt) Mollohan, graduated from the College of William and Mary with an A.B. in Political Science and West Virginia University College of Law, married Barbara Whiting of Glenville; father of four sons: Alan, Robert, Andrew and Karl; served as delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1968, 1972 and 1976, chairman of the Marion County Democratic Executive Committee 1971-1974; Captain, U.S. Army Reserve 1970 to 1983; member of First Baptist Church in Fairmont, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles; elected to the 98th Congress in 1982, the 99th Congress in 1984 and the 100th Congress in 1986; member of House Veterans Committee, House Interior Committee, subcommittees on Energy and Environment and Mining and Natural Resources, and the House Ethics Committee, member of the Executive Committee of the Congressional Steel Caucus, Co-Chairman of the Congressional Pro-Life Caucus, and member of the Coal Group and Congressional Rural Caucus

DOES THIS LOOK FAMILIAR??????

...AND THAT SHOULD JUST ABOUT CONCLUDE THE INTRODUCTIONS.

ATTENTION CITIZENS:

The puzzles and other "fun things" in the paper are intended for you to enjoy in your leisure time. We are happy to make this new addition to our newspaper, and we hope you enjoy them. Please do not work the puzzles, et cetera, during lectures.

WACKY WORDIES

In 1979, GAMES readers started sending in Wacky Wordies, clever typographic word pictures that were circulating everywhere.

So we made some up and ran a page of them. When readers sent more, we ran another page. And another. "No more!" we cried—to no avail.

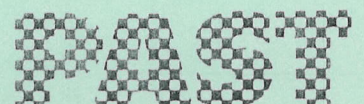

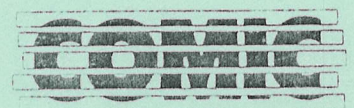

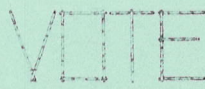

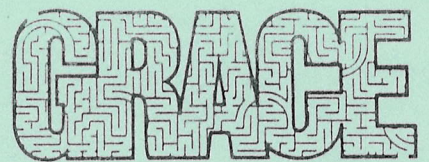

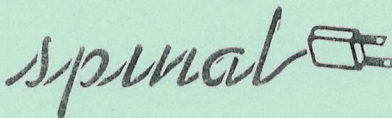

The Wacky Wordies still roll in, and despite our protests, we always print them—one more time.

The object is to discern a familiar word, phrase, or proper name from each pictorial letter arrangement. Number 1, for instance, depicts the phrase "life of ease," and 2 is "rule of thumb." And please, if you think of any others, don't tell us!

WHAT IS IT????? (Presented to the newspaper staff by Jimmy Gemondo)

The one who makes it doesn't want it.
The one who buys it doesn't use it.
The one who uses it doesn't know it.
What is it?

The first citizen to answer the riddle and bring the answer to someone in headquarters will be given a nice prize.

KEYS TO THE DUNGEON

BY R. WAYNE SCHMITTBERGER

This is the 13th-century dungeon maze of the infamous Balmanian Inquisition, in which, according to legend thousands of men and women perished. Balmanian prisoners faced a cruel obstacle in trying to negotiate the maze, as they had to grope their way in the dark while pursued by a pack of wild dogs. By contrast, the puzzle as presented here should be almost child's play. The plan for the dungeon shows the prisoner's cell in the middle (marked START), a network of hallways, six locked rooms, and six key rooms located on the periphery. To enter or leave a locked room, you must first secure the appropriate key: Key TC unlocks the Torture Chamber, Key A unlocks the Archives, and so on. Once a room has been unlocked, it remains unlocked, and you may carry as many keys as you wish. Retracing your steps is allowed. To escape, in what order must you visit the rooms?
